

very dangerous position, being nearly enveloped by a mob numbering well over 5,000. Mr. Arjyagar decided, therefore, with the concurrence of a Deputy Magistrate, to open fire with the result that three of the rioters were killed and some eighteen others wounded. The crowd then dispersed. The situation was very critical and was only saved by this officer's prompt action.

3. Rao Sahib Subhanga Venkates Arjya, Temporary Deputy Superintendent of Police—On 18th February 1923, a head constable and two constables who had been sent ahead by this officer to the village of Takka Tenava, in Madras district to assist him in arresting a wanted look alike before his arrival, but were attacked by villagers, deprived of the money which they carried, severely assaulted and kept prisoners. At this juncture Rao Sahib B. V. Arjya arrived and on learning of the state of affairs proceeded single-handed to their rescue. He confronted the mob with a revolver but they refused to release their prisoners and threw stones at the Deputy Superintendent, one of which hit him on the foot. He sprang free and shot two of the leaders upon which the mob retreated leaving the police prisoners. The Deputy Superintendent and his men attempted to return to Madras but the villagers who were numbered several hundreds, some of them armed with lathis, returned to the attack. The Deputy Superintendent had only two rounds of ammunition left and was obliged to comply with the demand of the villagers to return to the village and await the arrival of the District Superintendent of Police. The shooting had, however, subdued the mob who were restrained by their leaders from further violence. This officer showed good courage in facing single-handed the mob which had already shown its ferocious and violent temper.

This officer had also previously given evidence of possessing good courage, determination and courage when he was called upon to confront large mobs in Madras town on more than one occasion during times of disorder in 1921 and 1922.

4. Sankaralinga Kana, first grade head constable and acting Sub-Inspector—This officer has rendered long service of exceptional merit. He has arrested a large number of notorious criminals who in several instances were desperate murderers in possession of arms.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

REPORT ON THE PRESENT CONDITION OF THE COTTON CROP OF 1925-26.

In the "Cuddalore" tract, both the early and late crops are free from pests and uniformly good. Normal yields are expected if the bright weather continues.

5. In the Madhav and Wodeyar tract, plantings of muscova in early crops are in progress, the yield is about normal. The degree of late-crop crop has been generally free from any disease so far, but the period of its vegetative growth is likely to be prolonged owing to the heavy rains in the last half of December. As a result of these rains, there was much shedding of flower in the muscova crops in Karikal and of leaves and flowers in the muscova cotton in Cuddalore. However American groundnuts suffered from the attack of aphid and there was a lot of leaf shedding. In the whole, yields slightly below normal are expected in the tract.

6. In Salun, Coimbatore, and Tenkasi, the crop was sown late owing to want of adequate timely rains. It is therefore too early to estimate the yield. In Coimbatore, heavy rains after sowing affected the young crops to some extent and caused gaps in them which had to be filled up by doubling in fresh seed; the cotton bolls are everywhere weakly though the crops are otherwise healthy; some damage by heavy caterpillars has been reported from the Palakonda taluk.

4. The Muscovado crop in the "Tamil Nadu" tract was affected by the excessive and continuous rains in November and December which complicated harvesting in parts. The crop is now improving on account of the dry weather. The muscovado crop is fair. It is too early to estimate the yield.

THE MUSCOVADO CROP OF 1925-26—SECOND OR FINAL REPORT.

[On an average of the five years ending 1921-25, the area under muscovado in the Madras Presidency has represented one per cent of the total area under groundnut in India.]

The area sown with muscovado in the Madras Presidency in 1925-26 is estimated at 2,517,780 acres against the estimate of 1,825,500 acres on the corresponding date of last year. The last estimate fell short of the finally recorded area of 1,804,119 acres by about 5 per cent. The area is on an average year is estimated at 1,800,000 acres.

2. The area under groundnut now exceeds that of last year by 35 per cent. It is the highest on record. The increase is generally distributed over all districts and is due to timely sowing, more, good foreign demand, and the high prices which prevailed in May and June 1925. The greatest increase came in the Deccan where the area has increased from 354,400 acres in the previous year to 515,800 acres.

3. The harvest of the main crop is proceeding. The quality of the crop has been slightly affected in some districts by heavy rains at harvest time. The crop was above normal in the Deccan except in Cuddalore. Normal yields are reported from the Deccan except in Cuddalore. The yield of the crop has been reduced by heavy rains in most of the other districts, especially in South Arcot, Salem, Tanjore and North Arcot.

The national factor for the Presidency works out at 80 per cent of the average against 100 per cent in the previous year. On this basis, the yield is estimated at 1,104,460 tons against 948,200 tons in the previous year, an increase of 25 per cent. The yield in an average year is estimated at 948,200 tons.

4. Figures by districts are given in the statement appended.

Notice is hereby given that the Superintendent will hold an auction at the Madras Sub-Jail on 31st January 1925 at 2 p.m. for the supply of the following articles of station during the year 1925-27.

Intending bidders are requested to be punctual. In the case of suppliers who may be unable to attend the auction, tenders will be accepted provided it is made the Superintendent on or before the day and hour mentioned above and are accompanied by the correct money of Rs. 50. Tenders which will only be received on printed forms to be had free of cost on application should be accompanied by "Tender for the supply of various and sundry articles in the Jail" Nos. 50-1-1, 50-1-2, 50-1-3. The rates should be quoted in pounds and ounces per rupee for delivery at the Jail, Port of India, Calcutta, the quantities being specified in words as well as in figures. All supplies must be up to the samples accepted by them or approved by the Superintendent.

2. The successful bidder or tenderer will be required to enter into stipulated agreements with the Jail with a view to supply from the date of receipt of intimation by them that their rates have been accepted. In addition they should before signing such agreements deposit a security of ten per cent of the total value of the supply undertaken. (With the approval of the Inspector-General of Prisons, the total amount may be reduced in the case of approved contractors.) Failing compliance within the time specified, the current money may be forfeited and in the event of withdrawal they will also be liable to pay any difference between the price accepted and those ultimately obtained by the Jail. The current money received from successful bidder or tenderer will be taken towards their security deposit and then from others returned at the close of the auction.

3. The Superintendent reserves the right to accept or reject any bid or tender without assigning any reason.

4. Contracts should not be sublet.

At the same time, the Superintendent does not bind himself in making the quantities or numbers noted in the schedule if they are not required.

7. No supply is to be supplied to the Jail except on a requisition signed by the Superintendent or some responsible person authorized by him in writing to do so "by order".

8. Contractors must submit to receive payment of their bills in whole rupees to which will be deducted, unless they otherwise declare equivalent to half rupees or more when they will be treated as a whole rupee for the purpose of the account.

9. During the prevalence of plague in the vicinity of the Jail or in that of the areas from which

Questions in connection with any payment when payment may be referred to the Superintendent separately, but are not to be made an excuse for delay or refusal to sign.

11. In addition to any difference in price they may be recoverable from the contractor on account of purchases rendered necessary elsewhere by failure, neglect or refusal on their part to supply according to the terms of their agreement, a fine not exceeding Rs. 50 may be levied at the discretion of the Superintendent for each and every such case of default. The repeated infringement of the stipulations of the contract or for other justifiable reasons he may also suspend or remove all or some articles from the Jail in consequence of the neglect from the security deposited by the contractor, or other breach due to them, and, in the event of any contract, by legal means if so advised.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The recommendations of the Indian Bar Committee in regard to the constitution of Bar Councils and their functions were as follows:—

1. An all-India Bar or Council is impracticable. Similarly the Councils should, however, be established at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, Patna and Benares, but provision should be made permitting the constitution of councils at Lahore, Nagpur, Kanpur and Lucknow later on. (Paragraphs 40 and 41.)

2. The Council should consist of 15 members four of whom should be nominated by the High Court, including, where possible, the Advocate-General or the Government Advocate and the Government Pleader. The remaining eleven, of whom ten should be advocates of at least ten years' standing, should be elected by advocates of the High Court, provided that in Calcutta and Bombay the High Courts should determine how many of the eleven should be advocates entitled to practice on the Original side. The remaining members should exclusively be advocates, but six should be left to the High Courts to nominate judges past and present. (Paragraphs 42 and 44.)

3. The Bar Council should hold office for three years, the time of office of subsequent Councils being determined by rules to be framed by the Councils themselves. (Paragraph 43.)

4. A Bar Council should have power to make rules subject to the approval of the High Court in respect of the following matters:—

(a) the qualifications, admission and conditions of proper persons to be advocates of the High Court,

(b) the powers and duties of advocates,

(c) the conduct of any examination which may be permitted by it and the fees to be paid for appearing at the same,

(d) legal education, including the delivery of lectures to students and the fees chargeable therefor,

(e) matters relating to the discipline and professional conduct of advocates,

(f) procedure and practice in cases falling within the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Council,

(g) the method of holding elections of members of the Council and of members nominated therein,

(h) the meetings of the Council, the quorum necessary for the transaction of business, the election of a President or other officer and the appointment of committees for special purposes,

(i) the period for which a Council, other than the first Council, should hold office and the time of vacation occurring between its sessions,

(j) the terms on which advocates of another High Court may be permitted to appear occasionally in the High Court in which the Council is situated, and

(k) any other matter provided by the High Court. (Paragraph 46.)

5. The rules regulating the election of the first Council and the filling of vacancies before rules are made by the Council should be made by the High Court, and should be provided that no rules shall be made affecting the special provisions suggested for the Original side of the Calcutta and Bombay High Courts so long as these provisions remain in force. (Paragraph 45.)

6. A Bar Council should have power either of its own motion or on complaint or on reference by the High Court to inquire into all matters of the kind referred to in sections 22 and 23 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879, breaches of rules and other any other conduct on which an advocate of the Court is concerned, and make a report to the High Court with a recommendation as to the action, if any, to be taken by the Court.

A Bar Council should also be entitled to be heard in any matter relating to the admission of an advocate or in support of any report made by it to the Court. (Paragraph 10.)

7. The existing disciplinary jurisdiction of the High Court should be maintained, but the Court should be bound before taking disciplinary action against an advocate, except in regard to contempt of court and the like, to refer the case to the Bar Council for inquiry and report. On receipt of a report from the Bar Council the Court should be empowered itself to make or require the Council to make further inquiry. At the request of a Bar Council or on its own motion a High Court should be authorized to order an inquiry to be held by a local court. (Paragraph 11.)

8. Provision should be made for procuring with the sanction of the court the attendance of witnesses and production of documents required by the Council for an inquiry, and witnesses should receive the same protection as when they give evidence before a court. (Paragraph 12.)

(The paragraph referred to in paragraph 13 is the Report.)

The Government of India, concerned local Governments and High Courts upon these recommendations. In certain respects it appeared necessary to amplify them and in some respects to modify them in the light of the views urged by the authorities consulted. It is intended that these recommendations with the amplifications and modifications should be given effect to by or under the Bill.

2. The Bill is intended also to carry out as far as possible the following recommendations of the Committee:—

(a) The ideal to be kept in view should be the disappearance of different grades of legal practitioners so that ultimately there may be a single grade entitled to appear in all courts. At present the largest degree of unification possible should be effected. (Paragraphs 11 and 17.)

(b) In all High Courts a single grade of practitioners entitled to plead should be created, to be called advocates (not barristers), the grade of High Court Advocate or Pleader being abolished, and when special privileges are maintained for admission to plead on the original side the only distinction should be within that grade which shall consist of advocates entitled to appear on the original side and advocates not so entitled. (Paragraph 18.)

(c) Advocates of one High Court should be entitled to practice in another High Court subject to conditions to be imposed by the Bar Council of the latter Court or by the Court where there is no Bar Council. (Paragraph 19.)

(d) Where there is a compulsory dual agency system at present it should be allowed to continue. (Paragraph 20.)

(e) The High Courts should retain their power to fix the amount payable by a party in respect of the fees of an advocate's legal practitioners. (Paragraph 21.)

(f) Partnerships between legal practitioners should be permitted wherever all classes of legal practitioners are entitled to act as well as to appear and plead. (Paragraph 22.)

(g) The High Courts, where this is not now permitted, should consider the advisability of allowing Indian barristers applying for admission as advocates to plead with an approved Indian practitioner instead of having to chambers in England, at least where it is shown that the individual cannot obtain entry in suitable chambers in England. (Paragraph 23.)

2. Incidentally it is intended that the provision of the Bill and the rules which may be made under it shall, in regard to advocate entitled as of right to practice in the High Courts, replace the relevant provisions of the Legal Practitioners Act, the Feudary Practitioners Act and the Letters Patent of the various High Courts of Judicature as well as the rules made under those provisions. In regard to certain matters for which provision has not been made in the Bill it has, however, been necessary to retain the subsidiary powers of the High Courts of Judicature under their Letters Patent.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Committee in paragraph 34 of their Report the evolution and control of legal practitioners other than Advocates is left to the High Courts under the Legal Practitioners Act and the Feudary Practitioners Act as amended by the Bill.

4. The principal modifications of the Committee's recommendations which are contained in the Bill are as follows:—

(a) the constitution of the Bar Councils differs slightly from the recommendations in that the Advocate General must be a member and the number of members to be elected is ten, instead of eleven;

(b) the rules regarding all elections of the Councils instead of only the election of the first Councils in this respect being restricted to the making of by-laws in regard to matters not provided for by the rules made by the High Courts. For the making of these by-laws, however, the approval of the High Court will not be required;

(c) power is given to the Councils, with the sanction of the High Court, to prescribe fees to be payable to the Councils in respect of admission and enrolment and of the issue of certificates; and

(d) the powers of the Councils to hold inquiries into complaints of unprofessional conduct are restricted to issues referred to the Councils by the High Court, and the inquiries are to be held by a Tribunal consisting of members of the Council appointed for the purpose of the inquiry by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge of the High Court. The High Court is, however, required to refer all complaints of unprofessional conduct which it does not dismiss either to the Bar Council or to a subordinate Court for inquiry. Instead of requiring the concurrence of the Court for compelling the attendance of witnesses in such cases a Tribunal is given power to enforce such attendance. A Tribunal is also given power to administer oaths to witnesses, and the provisions of the witnesses who give evidence, which was recommended by the Committee, is achieved by applying the provisions of section 132 of the Indian Evidence Act in proceedings before a Tribunal. On the other hand, rules providing the procedure of a Tribunal are to be provided by the High Courts instead of by the Councils with the approval of the High Court.

Report of Select Committee on the Malabar Tenancy Bill with Minutes of Dissent and the Bill as amended by the Committee—Continued.

Minutes of Dissent to Select Committee's Report presented to the Council of the Governor of Madras.

THE MALABAR TENANCY BILL (No. 7 of 1924). MINUTES OF DISSENT.

The main characteristic of the Bill as it has emerged from the Select Committee is the curbing of a series of new features out of the aggregate of jama rights hitherto connected by the term 'jama', without any attempt adequately to compensate those whose proprietary rights have been invaded or subtracted by reason of its provisions.

2. I cannot persuade myself that in the case of the landholders, as such, who have been for over sixty years treated as 'holders of ancestral mortgages', there are any such equities as demand the special treatment accorded to them by the Bill in its present form. Least of all is there any such equity in the case of landholders whose tenure dates from after the judicial decisions which laid dows unequivocally the scope and limitations of their rights vis-à-vis the jamaia.

3. Further, in all legislation of this kind there must be provision made for the payment of compensation to be assessed by judicial tribunals and paid to the holders of the interests adversely affected, such compensation normally taking the form of an increase of rent or payment by instalments spread over a series of years.

4. I cannot also agree to the abolition of such recognized incidents of Malabar land tenure as removal fees, especially, where, as in the present Bill, the interest due on the kamma debt is attempted to be made a permanent item.

5. The Malabar Tenancy Bill, as introduced into the Legislative Council, and more particularly as it has been modified by the Select Committee, goes very much beyond accepted principles of legislation with regard to matters profoundly affecting the daily life of large classes of people and established modes of enjoyment of property. It seeks summarily to convert terminable into permanent rights and to annul the effects of a long course of conduct recognized by judicial decisions and embodied in a multitude of instruments and conveyances. It has even purported to give retrospective effect to these new ideas so as fundamentally to alter the character of transactions which have culminated in decrees of courts or consensual and formal documents. It is, speaking generally, so sweeping and confutory in nature and pays so little attention to the principle of compensation to all persons prejudicially affected by the measure that I must wholly oppose it. Moreover, I cannot see how any amendments that may be introduced at this stage can modify the Bill so as to remodel it, consistently with the principles accepted by the Select Committee, in a shape which will alone secure my adhesion.

6. In the result, therefore, I am constrained to express my complete dissent from the Bill as modified by the Select Committee.

7. While making these remarks I wish to guard the Government of Madras and myself against the misconception that we have adopted a 'non-passus' attitude or that we are opposed to any legislation designed to place on a satisfactory footing the relations between the jumis or possessors of intermediate interests and the cultivators of Malabar, meaning by 'cultivators' those who being hummidiars, verungadimudars or others, cultivate the land either by themselves or through the members of their family or by means of hired labour.

8. The amelioration of the position of the cultivating tenant, the prevention of arbitrary evictions, the elimination of any oppressive incidents that may attach to the system of malbarth the limitation of the enhancement of rent and the grant of permanency of tenure to the occupiers of homesteads or adivisappas by conferring on them a right to acquire the homesteads when threatened with eviction, are, therefore, questions which Government recognise must be promptly examined with a view to legislation.
